

Mission & Objectives

KEI aims at developing practical solutions for societal challenges caused by global change. Global change is seen as a result of the globalisation of economic activities, the scarcity of natural resources, and a changing environment. KEI builds a bridge between the expertise of researchers and decision-makers, enables interdisciplinary cooperation, and communicates the resolving courses of action on global change actively to the society.